

LISA C. HERRON, NCIDQ MANNING, APC

With over 35 years in the design industry as a client-focused project manager for institutions of higher learning, corporations, governmental agencies, and private entities, Lisa integrates clients' objectives into a work plan to deliver practical objectives and aspirational goals. She has been a speaker to national organizations, community groups, and students in the areas of facility programming, planning, case studies, and business practices. Throughout her tenure, she's provided technical writing skills, helping to clarify project goals and requirements. Predesign services are an area of specialty. With an eye for clarity and organization, she's assisted many planning projects and visioning exercises. She contributes to Manning's legacy by telling the stories of our projects and the communities Manning has been fortunate to assist.
